Between 1988 and 1992 there were times that so many players were associated with the Club that a Sunday fourth team was put out, playing friendly matches. The make-up of these teams varied widely (49 players were used in this period) with players from the first, second and third teams sometimes being drafted in to make up the numbers. The three matches in 1991-92 were all won, laying the foundation for a league team the following season.
